PIANOS.

GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein: thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.

Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, drys out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.

We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.

A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.

Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occasionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

SIX HUSBANDS.

That Is What One Woman Had Where Polyandry Is Practiced.

When Warren Hastings sent his first envoy to Thibet, more than a century ago, he specially mentioned this custom of the people as one on which he desired information, and since that time it has attracted the attention of all travelers who have come in contact with Thibetan social life.

One of the most recent writers on the subject is the late Mr. Andrew Wilson, who, during his wanderings among the western Himalayas, entered Thibet as Shipki, and who devotes a chapter of his work, "The Abode of Snow," to Thibetan polyandry.

Polyandry is that species of polygamy in which the wife has more husbands than one, and it prevails wherever the Thibetan language is spoken, even in districts on the Indian side of the mountains.

Polyandry is found in many other places, such as the interior of Ceylon, among the Todas and Nairs, of southern India; the Iroquois and the aboriginal Tasmaulans. But Thibetan polyandry has the peculiarity that the husbands are all brothers; or, at least, very nearly related, so that the woman becomes the wife of a whole family.

It does not appear to be in any way connected with the Thibetan religion, but owes its existence to the poverty of the country and the desire to limit the population. It is practiced by all classes of the population, rich and poor, and is only superseded by polygamy, or multiplicity of wives, where the people have been much in contact with Hindoos or Mahometans.

Turner, the second of Warren Hastings' envoys to Thibet, says that the number of husbands is not restricted or defined. At Teshu Lumbo, the residence of the Teshu Laina, he has known a family of five brothers living happily with one wife, and he thinks this probably is the practical limit.

Mr. Wilson met a case in which one woman was married to six brothers, one of whom was quite a boy; but he thinks in most cases there are only two husbands, not because five or six were objectionable, but because families with more than two brothers are not common.

He attributes the fact that the system works peacefully to the calm and unimpassioned temperament of the people, who subordinate all interests to those of the family. The children are regarded as scions of the house rather than of any individual member of it; all the husbands are treated as the fathers of the children, and there is no noticeable difference in the relation of a child to the different fathers.

The surplus women left by the system are provided for in the Lamar nunneries, where they learn to read and copy the Thibetan Scriptures and to engage in religious services.

The choice of a wife for the family is the right of the elder brother, and the contract he makes involves marriage contracts with all the brothers.

The system is said to have existed in Thibet since prehistoric times, so that its origin is lost in antiquity.

It has been suggested that it arose in a state of society where men were forced to be away from home for long periods, and where the duty of protecting the family would fall on the brothers in turn.

The notable end which it serves is that it restricts population in regions where emigration is difficult and where the means of subsistence cannot be easily increased.—Louisville Commercial.

Planting with a Cannon.

Alexander Nasmyth, the landscape painter, was a man fruitful in expedients. To his mind, the fact that a thing could not be done in the ordinary manner was no reason why it should be given up. His son relates the following interesting example of his ingenuity:

The Duke of Athol consulted him as to some improvements which he desired to make in his woodland scenery near Dunkeld.

Among other things, a certain rocky crag needed to be planted with trees, to relieve the grim barrenness of its appearance. The question was how to do it, as it was impossible for any man to climb the crag, in order to set seed or plants in the clefts of the rock.

A happy idea struck my father. Having observed in front of the castle a pair of small cannon, used for firing salutes on great days, it occurred to him to turn them to account.

A tinsmith in the village was ordered to make a number of canisters with covers. The canisters were filled with all sorts of suitable tree seeds. The cannon was loaded, and the canisters were fired up against the high face of the rock. They burst, and scattered the seed in all directions.

Some years after, when my father revisited the place, he was delighted to find that his scheme of planting by artillery had proved completely successful; the trees were flourishing luxuriantly in all the recesses of the cliff.—Youth's Companion.

Narrow Escape for the Child.

I was the witness of a street scene the other day which might have resulted very badly for the youngest person concerned. Two women were walking with a little girl between them, each of them having her by the hand. All three started to cross the street, when a hack came along at a brisk pace, whereupon one of the women hurried in front of the horses while the other held back, but both retained their hold of the child, and the consequence was that for a moment she was held in the path of destruction, her feet scarcely touching the ground, her little arms extended and the pole of the carriage threatening to impale her. Fortunately, at last one of these dangerous guardians let go her hold, and the small girl was hauled out of danger by the other. It would be well, perhaps, if, whenever a child is thus made to serve as a connecting link between two grown persons, the responsibility of guarding her should rest with one alone.—Boston Post.

SUICIDAL TURKEY.

A Country Which Would Be Prosperous Under a Wise Policy.

There used to be a large commerce in mohair, which industry was of great value to the people of Asia Minor, and it could have controlled the world's market. But Turkish political economy is of that kind that as soon as it perceives any industry to be in a flourishing condition it begins to levy unbearable taxes upon it, and thus the production of this beautiful wool was practically stifled. In addition to the usual four-fifths there was placed an export tax of 8 per cent. upon it, besides the profit of the middlemen. The peculiar system of taxation made the goats taxable as live stock and their milk as a food product. Their hair was taxed when clipped, and again when shipped abroad. Thus the whole production of this beautiful textile died out and other countries are beginning to furnish the Angora wool.

The culture of the silkworms and the manufacture of those unique and almost everlasting silks from Broussa might be made a source of much revenue to Turkey, were it not for the policy which taxes every mulberry tree, every ounce of raw silk and every yard of goods manufactured, until it is a matter of surprise how the poor wretches who produce them can live. Every fruit bearing tree is taxed, as are also animals, fowls and worms, and, lastly, labor itself is taxed, and the wage worker has to surrender all that the tax gatherers can squeeze out of him without actually starving him to death. The laborers in the interior of Turkey and her dependencies are so thin that they look like moving mummies, and they all have the expression of utter despondency and hopelessness on their wizened features.

The collection of taxes in all the interior of Turkey and her dependencies upon farm produce, made by revenue officers belonging to each particular pachalik is made in kind when there is no ready money. When the crops fail the amount which each one usually pays must be given in money, otherwise the soldiers, or revenue officers, seize the animals, implements, copper cooking utensils, and, in fact, everything of sufficient value to carry off, and these are turned into money, leaving whole families utterly destitute. If they make an outcry they receive the bastinado or are thrust into prison.

Those farmers or peasants who live within a distance of fifty miles from Constantinople bring their scanty stock of salable articles, such as small vegetables, fruit, poultry, etc., and all these roads converge in two, which have stations for the revenue officers at Mashiak, which is near the forest at Belgrade, and another on the Taxime, near the Grand Champs cemetery. Here the trains of poor peasants pass with their donkeys, with their bags upon their shoulders or with baskets containing a little salad or a few eggs or chickens—in short, anything they have to sell. They are stopped and their produce appraised, and the peasant must render up part of his scanty store, letting the officials take out what they wish as tax. Then he receives a bit of red paper which permits him to go on selling the diminished stock. Money, however, is always preferred when the peasant has it, but when he has no money the officials help themselves always to the best of the stock. If he complains, which he seldom does, he receives the bastinado. No other people in these days could be so submissive under such abject slavery.

All the drinking water is brought from long distances in barrels and bags on the backs of men, and this water is also taxed, with the exception of that which is brought for the sultan's household.

The resources of Turkey proper are various and would enrich any other country in the world, and when we also take into account all the tributary nations and dependencies, we wonder at the universal poverty. The country is large and reaches into several climates. There is scarcely anything that could not be produced if the industries were not subject to such unjust and outrageous taxation. Wheat, coffee, grapes, raisins, figs, prunes, wool of several qualities, tobacco of the finest possible kind, herbs, medicinal and aromatic, such as make the Serkys tea; rhubarb, mastic, honey, corn, fish of all kinds, medicinal gums, dates, opium, silk, cotton, flax, petroleum, cattle, sheep, rugs and carpets, attar of rose, the beautiful Broussa silks and embroideries, the exquisite gold filigree work, which cannot be equaled outside of Turkey, and many other things.

The Turkish dyestuffs were always valuable and in large demand, but the government effectually killed the industry by handicapping it with taxes and export duties, until now the trade is nominal. Indeed, the whole policy of Turkey has been to kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

There are valuable coal mines in many parts of Turkey—one within forty miles of Constantinople—and they are not utilized, though the need for fuel in that city is great. The present supply for heating houses through their very rigorous winters is charcoal and wood, brought from long distances on camels and horses in infinitesimally small quantities, and sold by the chekkee or armful.—Cor. New York Herald.

Shooting Deer from a Locomotive.

Engineer O'Malie, of the O. S. L., who runs the helper out from Glenn's Ferry, killed a deer out of the cab window while the train was under good headway. There were two deer about 100 yards from the engine and O'Malie took a couple of shots at them with his Winchester, knocking over one of them. The other ran directly up to the engine and then O'Malie lost his head. He got so rattled that he could not get the shell out of his gun. Then he tried to hit it with the monkey wrench and finally attempted to jump on its back, but was restrained by the fireman. At any rate, during the excitement the deer got away. The dead one was picked up on the return of the helper.—Pocatello (Idaho) Reporter.

Gave Him the Knife.

Several nights ago Col. Jerry Spillers, of Kentucky, went to see Coquelin, at McVicker's theatre. The colonel had never heard of the great French comedian, and expected to see a performance something after the style of the minstrel shows which visit country towns. The Kentuckian secured a seat near the stage, and, shortly after the performance began, began, in an annoyed way, to scratch his head.

"Licker in this blamed town is no good," he muttered. "Blamed if it don't take a man's understandin' away from him. My friend (addressing a man who sat next to him), what is that fellow sayin'?"

"I don't know."

"Then it has the same effect on you, I reckon."

"What has?"

"The whisky in this town."

"I don't drink."

"Huh, I don't understand this business. Say, what's the matter with that feller? Talks worse than anybody I ever seed. Why don't they make him get down offen that platform? Why, dang him, he can't talk a tall."

"He's talking all right. He's French, you know."

"What! then he ain't our kind uv folks a tall?"

"No."

"You say you can't understand him?"

"Not a word.

"Did you know befo' you come that you couldn't?"

"Yes."

The Kentuckian handed the man a buckhorn handle knife.

"What's this for?"

"It's yourn."

"No, it isn't."

"Yes it is," said the Kentuckian. "The fellers out in Allen county gave me that knife just befo' I left and told me that it was mine till I met a bigger fool than I am. It's yourn."—Arkansaw Traveler.

In India.

There are enough holidays in India to make a Roman go wild with joy. As well as I remember there are fifty-seven legal holidays in the land of the tiger. I was in one of the seaports on one of these holidays. I had brought together a large aggregation, for which I was to pay the sum of $5,000 on that day. The vessel on which they were to be shipped lay at anchor in the bay. The captain sent me word that my curiosities must be on board by sunset. The banks and business houses were closed. My natives were at the water's edge, and their friends, who did not understand the situation, were howling for them to leave me. I had a band of Afghans who were loyal to me, and as the East Indian fears the Afghan as a Texas steer fears a "norther," I put Afghans on guard while I went out for money.

There was a young fellow who lived a life of oriental indolence and kept a harem on the sly in one of the places near by—what we would call a suburb. I went out to see him with a good deal of pomp and glorious circumstance. Having obtained an audience, which required more formality than would have been necessary to get into the vatican, the young sport heard me for my cause, and with a sort of Masonic ceremony called up his exchequer and in a few minutes the money was in my hands. I offered him a check, which he refused. He said an American's word was better than a check. Poor, deluded man that he was! How long would he be a prince in Chicago, or how long would he be the possessor of a harem or of his fortune if a colony of American bankers, for instance, should swoop down upon him from Canada?—Chicago Times.

An Immense Paving Stone.

There is a new paving stone come to town which breaks the record for size. The stone forming the sidewalk before the Vanderbilt mansion, in Fifth avenue, has hitherto held the record, and the honor will still be in the family, for it is Frederick Vanderbilt who has had the new one brought to New York, and it will be placed in front of his house. It is fifteen feet wide and twenty feet long. It was quarried at Oxford, Chenango county, and transported to this city on a special car. Superintendent William Buchanan, of the New York Central road, designed the car, and, according to an account published yesterday, showed great ingenuity in overcoming the many difficulties of his task. Nothing can be carried on the Central that is wider than ten or higher than fourteen feet, but Mr. Buchanan applied mathematics to the puzzle of handling a mass fifteen feet wide. He put the stone on edge at such an angle that its breadth and height accommodated themselves to the limits, brought it in safety to the city, and received the well deserved congratulations of his friends.—New York Tribune.

A Pretty Scene.

A pretty little scene was witnessed yesterday at a north side street crossing. A 3-year-old child, with glowing cheeks and sparkling eyes, holding tightly clasped in his chubby fingers a bright new penny, was toddling with all the possible speed of his little limbs toward the nearest candy store. He came to the crossing just as a teamster came along with a heavily laden truck which taxed the horses' strength to the utmost. The child started for the opposite sidewalk, but stopped hesitatingly on seeing the wagon. With a loud "Whoa!" the driver pulled up his horses, and with a smile lighting up his rugged face waved his whip, motioning for the little fellow to proceed. The boy ran across the street, and, turning around when he reached the pavement, stood for an instant watching the horses as they tugged and strained to start their heavy load again. Then he raised his hands to his lips and wafted a kiss at the driver, who lifted his hat with courtly grace and then wafted back the little love messenger. Then there were further interchanges of kisses and smiles, and the wagon rolled down the street and the little gentleman toddled on toward the candy store.—Chicago Tribune.

THE Santa Rosa Democrat, under the caption of "Exit Boom," truthfully remarks: "No wonder Los Angeles ministers bewail, in their Sunday sermons, the evanescent character of the boom. Seeing that the delinquent tax-list of Los Angeles county contains over 21,000 pieces of property on which the boomers cannot raise the wherewithal to pay the taxes, there would appear good reason for some heaviness of spirit. The experience of boom-land in general goes to show that excessive immigration to any locality, and the consequent undue inflation of real estate values, do not conduce to permanent prosperity. The Southern boom has made a few millionaries, and many, very many, paupers. The lesson taught would seem to be to discourage booms in general and especially those of a section whose only desirable commodity is climate."

How Prunes are Prepared.

As many Sonoma Valley orchardists have planted largely of prune trees the past few years, we publish the following regarding the preparation of the same from a Santa Clara paper:

Certain dealers in prunes in San Francisco demand that the fruit be very dark in color, indeed nearly black, so as to imitate as nearly as possible the imported French prunes. To satisfy this demand some have restored to artificial means to make their fruit look dark enough for the market.

The natural color of a California prune carefully and cleanly prepared is not black, but a rich clear brown, with a tendency toward transparency, and when buyers get such fruit they get the fruit which is really best in quality and without the remotest suspicion of adulteration.

It is easy to color prunes to any desired darkness of color. They may be dipped into a dark syrup, or they may be colored by an infusion of logwood, or any dark coloring matter not positively injurious.

We are now speaking of the California prunes, simply dried and packed for the market without any special processing.

Besides this method of preparation, there are three others intended to fit the prunes to take the place of the fine French article which is so generally used as a confection or dessert.

S. F. Lieb prepares his crop, after being dried in the usual manner, by exposure to steam heat of rather high degree, by means of an apparatus of his own design, from which they come darkened considerably in color and having a cooked taste similar to the French preparation, and by many greatly preferred to it. They are packed in ten-pound tins which are lined with the finest parchment paper, entirely impervious to acid or moisture. Mr. Lieb has an electrical attachment to his apparatus, which insures the treatment of every batch exactly the same, producing perfect uniformity.

A company in San Francisco claim to process prunes exactly the same as it is done in France. We have not tasted of the product, and cannot therefore tell how they succeed in imitating the taste. Mr. J. B. Koch is the agent for this company.

W. W. Cozzens & Co., are putting out a quantity of the very best prunes, processed in a new way, which makes them very tender and fine for eating as a confection or dessert, and retaining more of the natural color than the other processes. We are told that is to be the "California process," and that shipments that have been made to Eastern cities where French prunes have been mostly used, have found great favor. They are packed in cans of ten pounds.

We believe, and others also with whom we have talked, that these processed prunes should be put up in smaller packages, even as small as one pound, and from that up to ten.

Tourists,

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading drnggists.

Don't forget the Grand Fireman's Ball at Union Hall on the night of Washington's Birthday. It is to be the social event of the season.

SACRAMENTO LETTER.

[From Our Special Correspondent.]

The Legislature intended no reflection on the sanity of the "West Coasters" when it voted to establish an asylum for the insane at Ukiah, but Yell and Seawell, the able firm of lawyers and law-makers from that section—the one in the Senate and the other in the Assembly—demanded it, supported their demand with arguments, and the bill passed both branches almost without opposition.

All the amendments to the County Government bill, with amendments thereto adopted from time to time, have been embodied in a general substitute bill reported by the County and Township Government Committee. Some important changes have been made of which your readers will be informed if the bill passes.

Crawford's Omnibus Educational bill, containing important modifications in the school laws, is likely to pass with a few trivial amendments. It makes important and needful changes.

The bill to appropriate $6,000 for the employment of counsel by the Legislature to defend the Scott Exclusion Act has passed both Houses and received the Governor's signature.

Various propositions are on foot to create additional Bureaus, Boards and Commissioners with big salaries and infinitesimal duties like several now in existence. Bills appropriating $100,000 to the State Mining Bureau and $111,000 to the State Board of Forestry have passed the Senate. If either of these institutions have ever done anything for the people at large or even for the special interests they are intended to subserve to justify such liberal appropriations they have been very successful in keeping the same a secret.

Hon. Robt. Howe of your town is winning golden opinions every day for his fairness and ability as Speaker of the Assembly. He stands in the natural line of promotion, and while he looks forward to a happy retirement to his country home with its environment of hill, dale, orchard and vineyard there are some probabilities and considerable talk—well just guess.

No session of the California Legislature has made such progress with its business at a corresponding period after it conveved, and this fact is due in a great measure to the rapid dispatch of details by the Speaker. L. D.

Cancer.

I am satisfied that Cancer is hereditary in my family. My father died of it, a sister of my mother died of it, and my own sister died of it. My feelings may be imagined, then, when the horrible disease made its appearance on my side. It was a malignant Cancer, eating inwardly in such a way that it could not be cut out. Numerous remedies were used for it, but the Cancer grew steadily worse, until it seemed that I was doomed to follow the others of the family. I took Swift's Specific, which, from the first day, forced out the poison, and continued its use until I had taken several bottles, when I found myself well. I know that S. S. S., cured me. MRS. S. M. IDOL.

Winston, N. C., Nov. 26, '88.

Out of Order.

Last year I was badly troubled with Blood Poison. My whole system was out of order, diseased, and a constant source of suffering, with no appetite and no enjoyment of life. In this condition I purchased two bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) of Dr. Schropus' Drug Store, and took by the directions, which made a complete cure. No better remedy was ever used for impurities of the blood than S. S. S.

JOHN GAVIN.

Dayton, O., Dec. 27, 1888.

I had a rising on the inside of my head behind my right ear, which grew so bad that the flesh sloughed off. It was lanced—swelled again and was lanced the second time. I took S. S. S., which forced out the poison, the discharge being copious. As soon as the poison was eliminated the sore began healing, and in a short time was perfectly well. S. S. S., has cured me of this dangerous trouble which was thought to be incurable. J. R. BULLOCK.

The Chill Blast

That sets the naked branches a-quivering, is not felt by the wealthy valetudinarian indoors, but not all the covering that can be piled on his warm bed, nor all the furnace heat that anthracite can furnish, will warm his marrow when chills and fever runs its icy fingers along his spinal column. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the thing to infuse new warmth into his chilled and aguish frame, to remedy the fierce fever and exhausting sweats which alternate with the chill. Dumb ague, ague cake, bilious remittent—in short, every known form of malarial disease is subjugated by this potent, and at the same time, wholesome and genial medicine. Biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia, sick headaches, loss of appetite and sleep, kidney, trouble, rheumatism and debility are also remedied by it. Use it with persistence to effect a thorough cure.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

THURSDAY, February 7th.

The Board reconvened at the Court House, Santa Rosa, with all members present and Chairman Allen presiding this date at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Davis moved that the Board proceed with the consideration of plans, specifications and bids for a new County Jail building.

There was some discussion on the subject and Mr. Cady in furtherance of his opinion concerning the wisest course to be pursued in the premises, introduced a substitute for Mr. Davis' motion postponing the further consideration of the subject matter until the 7th of March, with the provisions that all those who had plans, etc., be allowed to withdraw them for the purpose of alteration if they so desired. The substitute was carried.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the sum of $6,213.94 was ordered transferred from the General Fund to the Swamp and Overflowed Land Fund.

The petition for a change in the boundary lines of the Glen Ellen and Dunbar school districts, on motion of Mr. Cady, was made the special order for Wednesday, March 6th, at 1 P. M.

On motion of Mr. Davis the prayer of the petitioners of Dry Creek Pound District for the removal of C. A. Riners as Poundmaster thereof, was granted and J. H. Jackson was appointed.

The Clerk, on motion of Mr Smith, was instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of the Willow Creek road leading from Occidental to Markham's new mill, as surveyed and according to specifications on file with the clerk of the Board.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the petitioners for the appointment of D. W. McIntire and Charles Cook as Justices of the Peace in Cloverdale township vice, Cooley resigned, were placed on file.

At 12 o'clock the Board took a recess until 1 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Board reassembled at 1 P. M., members present same at morning session.

The election of Justice of the Peace of Cloverdale township was then taken up. Supervisors Davis and Clark were appointed tellers. D. W. McIntire was nominated by Mr. Davis and Charles Cook by Mr. Cady. The majority of votes were received by Mr. Cook and he was declared elected.

The following bids for the construction of the Mercury road in Redwood township were opened and read by the Clerk: G. T. Austin, $2.10 per rod; L. M. Ellison, $1.65 per rod; John Freeman, $1.79 per rod.

The balance of the session was occupied in the consideration of bills.

FRIDAY, February 8th.

The Board reassembled this date pursuant to adjournment at 9 A. M., all members present, G. F. Allen in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Cady, the burial ground at the County Farm was ordered enlarged, the work to be done under the supervision of Milo S. Davis.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the contract for the construction of sections 2, 3 and 4 of the road in Healdsburg and Redwood townships, known as the Mecury road, was awarded to G. W. Burris, the price being $1.49 per rod.

The petition of F. W. Lougee, H. P. Brainard and George P. McNear and other citizens of Petaluma township praying the Board to accept and declare a certain road through the lands of L. Hilmer, A. L. Whitney and others, a public highway, was, on motion of Mr. Clark, granted, the county being furnished with a proper deed for the right-of-way without cost. The road was ordered declared a public highway and the Clerk instructed to file the deed for record.

At 12 o'clock the Board adjourned until 1 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Board reassembled at 1 P. M., all members present.

On motion of Mr. Cady, the petition for the division of Vallejo road district was denied, the division of the district at this time being beyond the power of the Board.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the bill of Preston R. Davis, County Surveyor, for $939 for surveying the proposed new road from Stewart's Point to Skaggs' Springs, was allowed as follows: From the Salt Point Road District fund, $634.42, and $304.38 from the Mendocino Road District fund.

On motion of Mr. Cady, the Auditor was instructed to apportion the moneys of the Road fund among the several road funds of the county.

It appearing from the Treasurer's report that there is $10,000 in the Bond fund of the county in excess of what will be required to pay the annual interest on the bonded indebtedness for the year 1889, Mr. Smith moved that the Treasurer's attention be called to the fact and that he be requested to notify bondholders that interest will be stopped on $10,000 of the outstanding bonds. So ordered.

On motion of Mr. Cady; the proposition of L. E. Ricksecker to furnish the county with revised copies of maps of the city of Santa Rosa for the use of the County Assessor, for the sum of $50, was accepted.

The Board adjourned until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

SATURDAY, February 9th.

The Board reconvened at 9 A. M., this date all members present, Chairman Allen presiding.

In the matter of the bridge across Sonoma creek at El Verano, Mr. Cady moved that the cost of said bridge be paid out of the General fund of the county. So ordered.

On motion of Mr. Davis, an allowance of $10 per month was made to Mrs. Davis Thomas from the Indigent fund.

On motion of Mr. Cady, certain changes were made in the printing and stationery price list which was adopted at the last meeting of the Board.

On motion of Mr. Cady, the bond filed by the King Iron Bridge Company was received, and the Chairman was authorized to approve the same.

At 12 M., an hour's recess was taken.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Board reassembled at 1 P. M.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the Assessor was authorized to procure the books required under Section 3678 of the Political Code.

On motion of Mr. Cady, the deed for right-of-way furnished the county by the Sonoma Valley Improvement Company for a certain road in El Verano, was accepted and the Clerk was ordered to have the same filed in the Hall of Records.

On motion of Mr. Davis, the Superintendent of the County Farm, C. W. Hawkins, was authorized to dispose of any stock which is not profitable to keep on the farm.

At 3 P. M., the Board adjourned until Monday, March 8, at 10:30 A. M.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. The Sheriff of Napa county, G. S. McKenzie, passed through town Monday, on the keen scent after three burglars who broke into a store near Napa, a short time since and attempted to crack the safe. The men he was after were in town several days last week, and were ordered to leave town by City Marshal Sparks, as they were without visable means of support and were evidently awaiting a favorable opportunity to ply their vocation here. When last heard from they were on the road between Sonoma and Santa Rosa.

THE SCHOOL TEACHER.

Has She a Right to Search the Persons of Scholars.

An important question came up for decision before the School Trustees of this district last Saturday afternoon. The question involved was whether a teacher has a right to search the scholars in her school on the assumption that some one among them is dishonest. The circumstances surrounding the case were substantially as follows: On the 29th of last month one of the scholars in Miss S. Wise's class of the Sonoma Public School missed a 25 cent piece which she had carried to school in her handkerchief. The child did not charge that the money had been stolen nor did any other scholar so charge. The teacher upon learning of the loss very properly searched the floor of the school room for the missing coin, but failing to discover it she then searched the persons of eight little girls in her class, ranging in years from seven to ten. The second search was as fruitless as the first and the children, after being searched, were allowed to resume their seats at their desks. The matter coming to the ears of a number of the parents of the children they became very indignant at what they conceived to be an assumption of power on the part of the teacher both uncalled for and unjustifiable under the circumstances.

A petition was thereupon circulated by one of the leading merchants of this town charging Miss Wise with conduct unbecoming a teacher in thus searching these little girls and asking that she be removed and a competent teacher put in her place. This petition was circulated only among the parents of the children who had been searched. Some five or six names were attached to the document and it was put into the hands of the School Trustees, who fixed last Saturday as the time and the public school house as the place for hearing the charges and giving the offending teacher a chance to vindicate herself. That the trial was a public one and that the Trustees did not conduct the hearing with closed doors it is but an act of justice to state was no fault of the petitioners.

At 3 o'clock on the afternoon in question Miss Wise, with her attorney, L. D. Wilgus, Esq., promptly put in appearence, as did also a majority of the parents of the little girls who had been searched. There was also a number of spectators present. The School Trustees, Messrs. Campbell, Clark and Ehrlich, were all present. The petitioners were unrepresented by counsel and conducted their own side of the case. The defense claimed that under the school law no teacher could be dismissed on such charges and it was maintained that in searching the children for the missing coin, even when no one had been accused of purloining the same, that she had not exceeded her powers as a teacher in the public school and had done a praiseworthy act, inasmuch as by doing so she had proved that the scholars searched were all honest.

The petitioners, on their side, argued that she should be dismissed, as she had no right to search the persons of her scholars, as the little girl who had lost the money did not claim that it had been stolen, and they argued still further that even if the class had been charged with the theft, the teacher was exceeding her power over the young and defenseless in subjecting them to such an indignity. It was also pointed out to the Trustees that such a search would prove nothing from the fact that the coin was not marked and was like the general run of coins of that denomination. It was also contended that if one of the little girls happened to posses a two bit piece, which had been acqured honestly, she would have been held up to public scorn and contempt and branded as a thief.

Attorney Wilgus, shielded his client behind the school law of this State and made a masterly defense out of a very poor case.

B. F. Campbell, Chairman of the School Trustees. who was sitting in judgment on the case, also spoke in Miss Wise's behalf and it would have puzzled a Philadelphia lawyer as to whether he or Attorney Wilgus had been employed to argue the case for the lady.

At the conclusion of the arguments, Messrs. Campbell and Clark announced their decision, which was in favor of retaining Miss Wise.

Attorney Wilgus then asked Trustee Ehrlich for his decision, and when he stated that he would take the matter under consideration Mr. Campbell arose and in an authoritative tone declared it was not necessary to wait for Mr. Ehrlich's decision as two constituted a majority of the Trustees and their opinion was sufficient, and thus ended the proceedings.

After These Many Years.

The ugly adobe wall on the express offlce building on the side facing the Plaza is receiving a coat of plaster.

Blessed is the town that never had a boom. Steady growth beats all the booms that ever started.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Olive Culture.

A great deal of attention is being given to the cultivation of the olive in Sonoma Valley this season. The wonderful success of Col. G. F. Hooper's experiments with the olive has demonstrated that it grows to perfection in this valley and takes as kindly to our soil and climate as it does to its own sunny slopes of Italy. Col. Hooper's success, together with the large and growing demand for pure olive oil to replace the miserable adulteration now handled and sold by dealers all over the United States, has encouraged many of our farmers to plant out large numbers of olive trees.

E. P. Thomson of Agua Caliente has set out this season over 600. Those set out last year, some 500 in number, are vigorous and are growing fine. Only five per cent, failed to take root and grow. These were less than three inches in height. None over that size died.

Robt. F. Clark has also set out this season over 1000 of these trees, and many other farmers have planted from 100 to 500.

In order to supply the demand for olive trees, Thos. D. Morris, whose place is located about midway between Sonoma and Glen Ellen, is preparing to plant a nursery of 60,000 trees.

Sonoma Valley Oranges.

The orange crop on the C. C. Carriger ranch is turning out exceptionally fine this season, and a large crop is being picked. One tree alone has netted this season $50. There is a ready market for these oranges and in addition to those shipped to San Francisco, large quantities find their way to Petaluma and Santa Rosa.

The Republican of the latter city in speaking of these oranges says: "The best samples of oranges of Sonoma county growing yet shown, are on exhibition at Howell & Bryant's grocery store. They will be hard to beat by any orange growing locality in the State. The cluster on exhibition contains nine large-sized ripe oranges in one bunch, all of an even size, the whole contained on not more than seven inches in length of stem. The branch originally supported thirteen oranges, four having become displaced in the handling. Mr. Bryant picked the cluster of fruit from a tree in the orchard of C. C. Carriger near Sonoma on Sunday. The Carriger orchard contains about two acres of orange trees loaded with fruit. Mr. Bryant purchased 5,000 oranges from the orchard to arrive here about Thursday."

County Items.

Sonoma county has three lady School Trustees, one of these is Mrs. Appleton of Agua Caliente.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad extension from Cloverdale to Ukiah has been completed.

Geo. W. Thomas, son of the late David Thomas of Santa Rosa, died in that city of consumption on the 8th inst., aged 25 years.

James Turner caught in a trap baited with a lamb an immense eagle one day last week near Cloverdale. It measured 7 feet from the tips of the wings and the reach of its claws measured 8 inches.

On Tuesday morning last, says the Santa Rosa "Republican" Wm. Howe, of Petaluma, a young man of about 25 years, ran into the residence of Julio Carillo of this city exclaiming that he was sick and dying. He threw himself upon Mr. Carillo's bed and died almost instantly. It is supposed that he died of heart disease.

Election of Officers.

Sonoma Hook and Ladder Co., No. One held its annual election for officers last Wednesday evening. The meeting was a most harmonious one. The following were elected: H. C. Lutgens, President; J. E. Poppe, Foreman; C. W. Engelbert, First Assistant Foreman; Julius Fochetti, Second Assistant Foreman; Jas. Albertson, Secretary; H. H. Granice, Treasurer. Finance Committee—G. S. Harris, A. Goess, G. Pabst. Standing Committee—Henry Weyl, Jr., John Ludeman and Jas. Martin.

The Sonoma INDEX-TRIBUNE notes the omission from the report of the Mechanics' Institute Fair at San Francisco last fall of the names of men from that vicinity who contributed largely to the success of the enterprise. That paper has a right to feel offended at this omission. The people in and about Santa Rosa are not unmindful of the good work done by many of the people in Sonoma Valley. Messrs. Cady, Poppe and Shaw were members of the executive committee having charge of the exhibit from this county and the committeemen from here are provoked that their names were omitted from the report.—Republican.

Agua Caliente Items.

Now is the time for an excursion to Hooker Falls. The weather is fine, there is lots of water in the creek and a good wagon road has been completed to within a quarter of a mile of the falls.

Harvey Manuel has just finished a new boarding house near this place and will run it in connection with the quarries which he has recently leased in the neighborhood. It is located at a beautiful spot on the Hooker creek road, about halfway between Agua Caliente Springs and the falls. Harvey has christened it Valley View, which strikes us as a very suggestive and appropriate name.

The Agua Caliente Springs Hotel is doing more business than ever before at this season of the year and has taken its place as one of the foremost among the favorite summer and winter resorts of the Coast. The proprietor is busy making enlargements and improvements which will greatly add to the attractions of this already popular watering place.

Allan Coghlan has purchased from E. P. Thomson five acres of the rich alluvial land bordering on Sonoma creek. He will build a comfortable cottage on the premises and intends to plant the whole tract in strawberries, blackberries and other small fruits. We prophesy that this will prove a profitable investment, as the raising of berries has not in the past received the attention it deserves in this valley, where the climate and much of the soil is particularly adopted to this pleasant and lucrative branch of horticulture.

The basalt quarries at Agua Caliente are turning out large quantities of paving blocks of the very best quality and furnish employment for a large number of men, the force being added to as fast as good block-makers can be procured. The basalt block business has become one of the most important industries of this valley, the quarries here having an advantage over most others in this State on account of their accessibility, the ease with which the rock can be worked and the fine quality of the blocks produced. Other quarries in this neighborhood are to be opened up and developed in the near future.

The town of Agua Caliente is not being "boomed" and it was never intended by its founder that it should be. It is, however, experiencing that steady and healthful growth which a matchless climate, beautiful surroundings and accessible location would naturally insure. Our little village can already boast of a good general store, Post-office, Wells Fargo & Co's Express, blacksmith shop, wine distillery, hotel and other places of business, together with several private residences and a good school. An Episcopal Church will soon be built and several fine summer residences will go up before the end of another year, and when more of the San Francisco health and pleasure seekers become aware that Agua Caliente, with its equable climate, beautiful landscapes and healing waters, is within such close and convenient proximity to their city, more suburban homes will certainly be located at this point.

We have, under the able management of Miss Redmond, one of the best country schools in the county which fact will always be an additional inducement for familes to settle in our midst. The following are the names of pupils appearing on the Roll of Honor for the half month ending February 15th: Leonide Johnson, Sadie Cady, Zelma Johnson, Hermenia Steiger, Ludwig Steiger, Amelia Bacigalupi, Sophie Penning, Stella Johnson, Clarence Badger, Lillie Stieger, Elsie Appleton, Lena Bacigalupi.

The Editor's Apology.

We apologize for mistakes made in all former issues and say that they were inexcusible, as all the editor has to do is to hunt news and clean the rollers and sweep the floor and pen short items and set type and fold papers and write wrappers and make paste and mail the papers and talk to vistors and distribute type and carry water and saw wood and read proof and correct the mistakes and hunt the shears to write editorials and dodge the bills and dun delinquents and tell our subscribers that we need money. We say that we've no business to make mistakes while attending to these little matters and getting our living on gophertail soup flavored with imagination, and wearing old shoes and no collar, and a patch on our pants, obliged to turn a smiling countenance to the man who tells us our paper isn't worth two dollars anyhow and that he could make a better one with his eyes shut.—Ex.

Does it Pay?

Three-fourths of our people are troubled with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint in some form or other, which by nature of the disease has a depressing influence on the mind or body, preventing them from thinking or acting clearly in any matter of importance. Indigestion, coming up of food after eating, dyspepsia, sick headache, acidity of the stomach or any derangement of the stomach or liver (upon which the whole action of our system depends) are speedily and effectually overcome by the use of Green's August Flower. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its influence, as thousands of letters received will testify. The immense sale of this medicine is another guarantee of its merits, (over a million and a half bottles sold last year.) So we ask, will it pay you to suffer from any the above diseases when you can have immediate relief in the August Flower. Three doses will prove its worth. It is sold by all druggists and general dealers in all parts of the world.

A BIG STRIDE!

Up to last year we pursued the stereotyped plan in vogue everywhere of buying our furniture, etc., from the San Francisco jobbers. That entailed upon our customers the payment of three separate profits, viz: the manufacturer's, the jobbers' and our own. As freight can only be brought from the East in full car-load lots to get the advantage of car-load rates, it is rather a larfie undertaking to attempt to import directly, but we decided to try it.

With many misgivings, in July of last year we sent our first car-load order to the Eastern manufacturers. The car was loaded at the door of the factory in Michigan and came straight through, arriving in August. The quality of the goods and their prices was as much a surprise to us as to our customers. We could sell them Eastern Hardwood Furniture at about the price they have been paying for cheap California Pine Furniture. It is needless to say that

Our Venture was a Success.

We continue to send in our orders, and shipments now reach us monthly and we are dealing in but little else. For these persons we are now selling

Furniture at Less than San Francisco Wholesale Prices,

And in proof of this statement we ask intending purchasers to come and see our goods, get our figures and before buying compare them with San Francisco prices, and then there can be no question.

We are selling Fine Antique Oak Bed-Room Sets of eight pieces for $35, that are quoted in San Francisco at $45.

Square Top Extension Tables in Hardwood for $16, that are sold in San Francisco for $22.

Body Brussels Carpet we quote you at prices you have heretofore paid for Tapestry.

Smyrna Rugs, Portiers and Window Shades are also among our Eastern importations, and we give the same advantage in those lines. In short we are now giving Sonoma county people the middlemen or jobbers profit on everything in our line.

☞ Come and get our prices and you can prove it in anyway you like before purchasing.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1889.

AT HOME IN A POCKET.

A Veritable Living Lilliputian Uncovered a New York Hatter.

A prominent Eighth avenue hatter was surprisingly made aware that a very little thing at times causes a great deal of commotion in this hustling world. He was cozily seated in his palatial hat repository and carefully engaged in scrutinizing the columns of The Evening Sun, when a gentleman entered and asked to see some hats. The latest thing in silk tiles was shown to him. He tried one on. It did not exactly suit his fancy, however, and the proprietor placed several others before him, and was about to return the first one to its proper shelf when a "still, small voice" from its interior greatly startled him.

"Hold on, sir," said the voice; "I'm not done yet." The astonishment depicted on the face of the hatter, as he dropped the tile and peered into it, was doubly increased by what he saw, and he hastily jumped back and clutched the counter for support. His exclamations of surprise and excited manner brought several clerks and customers to his side, whose astonishment became equally as great as his. And no wonder. The most diminutive mite of a man that ever existed outside of Mother Goose's Melodies or Swift's Liliputians was standing upright in the hat, which was, of course, an ordinary one, and having plenty of room to move about therein.

With the assistance of the customer who had called for the headgear, the little fellow was helped out, and taking his stand on the rim of the hat, his elbow resting on the crown, he bade the writer a pleasant "good evening." He had been but imperfectly seen while in the hat; therefore, upon looking at him out of it, the reporter could scarcely believe his eyes, for there stood a perfectly formed and, as he subsequently proved, an intelligent little gentleman. No reporter could resist the instinct to engage him in an interview. It was discovered that he came to the store in the overcoat pocket of the gentleman who had helped him out of the hat, and whom the spectators now strongly suspected of having previously helped him into it.

The little fellow's name proved to be Hop o' My Thumb, a euphoneous cognomen given to him because of his diminutive size. He is 19 years of age, 16 inches in height, and weighs just 9 pounds. Soon after imparting this information he was conveyed to the pocket of the gentleman who brought him in, and then, while waggishly wagging his small head, he informed his interviewer that the owner of the pocket, etc., was Mr. Thomas Foster, his manager, who was as "fine as silk."

"I'm somewhat under his size," said Hop, "but nevertheless he treats me in all things as his equal. We have many a lark together." This last remark was made while he rolled a tiny cigarette, and he indeed looked amusing as he leaned against the side of his manager's pocket and contentedly puffed away. No one present doubted the statement made by Mr. Foster that Hop o' My Thumb is the smallest known human being, and that his like has probably never existed. "He has gained the age of maturity," said Mr. Foster, "and yet he weighs no more than the average babe at birth."

At this saying he lifted the atom of manhood from his position in the pocket and actually held him out to the reporter on the palm of his hand, while the subject of his remarks bowed to every one present with the air of a Chesterfield. A bright smile then illumined his handsome little face as quoting "A man's a man for a' that," the lid of the pocket was buttoned over him and the manager and mite took their departure.—New York Evening Sun.

Getting Around the Law.

The "secrecy of grand jury chamber" is another legal fiction that is easily penetrated. An instance is as follows: A justice of sessions was curious to learn whether the grand jury in a noted case had been unanimous in their finding of the indictment. He asked me whether I had learned concerning it. I replied: "No, but I can readily find out for you from Mr. ——, your townsman," indicating a grand juror standing on the opposite side of the street. "Oh, no, you must not ask him," rejoined the anxious member of the court; "it would be an indictable offense for you to ask him, or for him to tell you." "I don't propose to ask him, but to get him to tell you," I replied. "I will pass over and engage him in conversation, and then you come up and call me aside and repeat your question loud enough for him to hear."

It took but a few minutes for me to engage the rural grand juror in conversation regarding the crop prospects of his neighborhood for an "Argus" item, and then the magistrate beckoned me full off a few and repeated his part of the play.

I replied that I had heard two versions: "One, that they were unanimous, and another that they stood nineteen to four."

"You're right the first time," broke in the bucolic grand juror, "we were unanimous about it, and don't you forget it." I have not.—Albany Argus.

Bleached Mustaches in Vogue.

A man wearing a head full of black hair and a lip full of white bristles attracted the attention of a dealer in wigs yesterday. He said: "That is the latest fad. The man has bleached his mustache. The bleach is not applied by hairdressers, but is sold in bottles and applied at home. One application of the bleach will turn a fierce red mustache into a lovely blonde or old gold tint. You can't find as many red mustaches now as were worn six months ago, for the bleach is becoming popular. Beards are treated in the same way, and men with dark hair and light mustaches are increasing every day. The bleach is injurious to the hair, and the only way to restore the original color is to shave the mustache off and let it grow out again. It is hard to detect a bleached mustache, but experts can do it every time."—Buffalo Express.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising; weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and more critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, paper-covered), send ten cents in stamps. Address, Summons.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SONOMA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

MARGARET MCFARLAND, Plaintiff, vs. JOHN MCFARLAND, Defendant.

ACTION BROUGHT IN THE SUperior Court, in and for the County of Sonoma, State of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The People of the State of California send greeting to John McFarland, defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff, in the Superior Court, in and for the said County of Sonoma, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a judgment and decree of divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant upon the grounds of willful desertion; that plaintiff have the custody of Wm. James McFarland and Edward John McFarland, minor children of plaintiff and defendant, and for costs of this action, all of which will more fully appear from plaintiff's complaint on file herein, a copy of which accompanies this summons, to which reference is hereby made for other and further particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in plaintiff's complaint.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court, in and for the said County of Sonoma, State of California, this 3d day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.
